"If Winter Comes"

And, of course, it WILL - but no matter what the future may bring for weather, during the next six or eight weeks, hundreds of dollars have already been saved by the Town of Arlington, because of the unusually mild and open winter thus far.

The snow removal costs of the Town of Arlington for the months of November and December, 1947, amounted to $17,137.56, as against $3550.65 for November and December of 1948, according to Chairman Thomas J. O'Neill, of the Public Works Department.

The Department gives much credit to the other department trucks, to move necessary equipment, etc., and the former feels this cooperation is one of the main factors why costs have thus far been kept down, and will continue to be kept at a minimum during the remainder of the winter.

The new catch basin cleaning machine purchased in the spring of 1948, also is responsible for a considerable saving, as it facilitates this work to the extent of cutting the cost of cleaning the catch basins about sixty per cent, doing a job in twenty minutes which would normally consume a full day's time. The new machine is the culmination of one of Chairman O'Neill's projects for saving money in his department.

Another major expense which will be saved by the town, is the road repairing bill which usually mounts up during the spring and summer months.

The one storm which struck us this year, came during the third week in December, and averaged only eight inches anywhere in the state. The work of snow removal here was practically completed within a few hours after the storm subsided. The thaw which followed the storm, however, did considerable damage in heaves and crumbling of roadways, which will necessitate armor coating and oiling, and this cannot be done until the arrival of warm weather.

According to the calendar, we have had only 23 days of winter thus far, but the date for the real opening of winter is set usually way back in November, and runs along into March.

So unpredictable are New England winters, that as this goes to press, snow, rain, or even hail may be falling. But, anyway we look at it, we have been blessed thus far.

I Wonder?

I WONDER if Arlington folks aren't looking forward with pleasure to the coming "Police Benefit" on Wednesday evening, January 19, which will feature those local favorites, Bill Cunningham and Marjorie Mills?

I WONDER if the general public will show their appreciation of the splendid work accomplished by the present chairman of the Board of Public Works during the past two years?

I WONDER if there is any truth to the rumor that the Town of Melrose is very much interested in our Superintendent of Parks, Daniel J. McFadden?

I WONDER if June Millard, West Coast beauty whose name is romantically linked with that of Senator Warren G. Magnuson, of Washington, isn't the daughter of the late June Caprice, a former Arlington girl, who made good in the movies to amass a fortune of $3,000,000 in the silent film days?

I WONDER why California doesn't keep its cold weather to itself, instead of sending it up North?

I WONDER if Martin's restaurant isn't the eating and meeting place of many of Arlington's beauties?

I WONDER if Lieut. Al Ryan isn't snappy and debonair enough to be in Hollywood?

I WONDER if Sgt. Pick didn't do a fine job in helping to extricate the car belonging to the fair damsel on Mass. Ave. Tuesday?

I WONDER if Jimmy of the Paul Revere Restaurant wasn't a great hunter in his day?

I WONDER who is Nancy's new boy friend?

H. N. Societies Plan Family Program

Special programs for the observance of Family Communion Sunday have been planned by most local Holy Name Societies, beginning with family groups receiving Holy Communion at the regular Communion Holy Name Mass. The concurrence of the Feast of the Holy Family the regular Communion Sunday for the local parish units has added special color to this event. Most Holy Name Societies have reported plans covering special Breakfast for the Families after the Mass, or special themes for the regular monthly meeting. These programs, where arranged, will be held in the afternoon.

Special sermons devoted to the significance of the Feast of the Holy Family in relation to the Holy Name Man will be given at most of the principal Masses.

The third observance of the custom of Family Communion Sunday was inaugurated by His Excellency, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, who felt that it was fitting and proper that the observance of this custom be handled by the Holy Name Societies inasmuch as the society is basically made up of family men. It is expected that this annual observance will grow in popularity and enthusiasm.

Amongst the special programs planned by the local units are: Special Breakfasts, Parish Family Party in the afternoon or evening dramatization of the significance of the Feast of the Holy Family at evening programs.

Two Arlington Musicians Study At Schillinger House

Bach Beethoven and Brahms, three of the world's greatest composers, learned their art "The hard way," according to Richard T. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Banks of 21 Bates Road, and Gabriel M. Stabile of 56 Newcomb St., both of whom are currently studying music at the Schillinger House in Boston.

"These three masters learned their craft tediously studying the works of those who preceded them, Dick Nash explained to an interviewer. "The way we study, all music including theirs, is converted into mathematical patterns; our grammar school arithmetic taught us how to add and count, so we're able to do everything they could and then some."

The two students are studying the famous Schillinger System, the only real innovation in the art of writing music in the past 1000 years. The system was originated by Joseph Schillinger, a scientist who died in New York five years ago. It has found favor with many of America's greatest musicians. The late George Gershwin, Vernon Duke, Paul Lavalie, Lyn Murray, Stan Kenton, Benny Goodman and Norman Clouthier are some of the outstanding exponents of the system.

Nash plays the trombone and was a member of Sam Donahue's band and various other local outfits before entering school, and Stabile, a pianist, was with Buddy Harrison's and George Meyers' bands prior to serving in the Army Air Corps during the war.

At the conclusion of their four year course at Schillinger House, both will be capable arrangers and of double value to band leaders. Many of the nation's best known orchestra leaders select their new band members from the Schillinger House student body. Interesting enough, men have been taken from school to replace musicians who have left bands to attend the school.

The unusual combination of music and mathematics at Schillinger House is further highlighted by the school's director, Lawrence Berk, who graduated from M. I. T. as an engineer and later turned to music as a career. He is considered one of the world's leading authorities of the system, and personally tutors the two Arlington men attending the school.

Arlington Layman On Board Of Guild Of Our Lady Of Ransom

Paul C. Griffin, of Arlington, a wellknown Catholic layman throughout the diocese, was appointed by Archbishop Cushing as a member of the Board of Directors of the Guild of Our Lady of Ransom, when it was first organized in 1946.

The Guild which was established by Archbishop Cushing for the purpose of affording spiritual and temporal aid to inmates and ex-terminates of penal institutions, has now established headquarters at 24 Clark Street, Boston, it is announced.

The intention of the Guild is to organize the efforts of those who desire to help. Membership is cordially solicited and all those interested should write to the treasurer, Rev. Joseph A. Robinson, chaplain of the State Prison at Charlestown. Mail is to be addressed to 24 Clark St.

Ex-officio president of the Guild is His Excellency, Archbishop Cushing. The president is John J. Mahoney, ED. D., professor emeritus of Boston University and director of the Civic Education Project conducted by the Educational Research Corporation of Cambridge. Doctor Mahoney is also the author of "For Us the Living" grave problem of crime which has been challenging the best minds for years and which costs the United States between $16 and $19 billion yearly," the Guild states.

"Prevention of crime in its beginning is of primary importance. However, rehabilitation and re-establishment in life of those who have fallen captive to crime is of the next greatest importance to society. These may be obtained in most cases only through the sincerity of community-minded people who are willing to make sacrifices of time and interest to assist.

The Guild also will strive to interest those in community life to visit inmates who have very few concerned in their welfare and to secure reconstruction of life after an inmates' release by assisting parole authorities in that field. This last important feature members of the Guild through personal and contact and counsel for inmates honestly seeking to re-establish themselves in life.

ily, of Malden, motored to Maine over the weekend. Mr. Lott is a TON PRESS.

One of the important winter events in the New England fire fighting field is the fire fighting conference held each year in line with the state-wide Massachusetts Union Agricultural meetings, at the Worcester municipal auditorium, according to advices received from Fire Chief Richard J. Tierney.

The date for this annual meeting was Tuesday January 4, at 10:30 a. m. State Fire Marshall Everett Flanders was the presiding official, and a program of great value and interest engaged the attention of the group, which included fire fighters, insurance people and public officials, and farm agents, etc., throughout the state.

Such subjects as the building and use of water holes, water carrying fire apparatus and the use of water wetters, brought up important discussions.

One of the highlights of the conference was the talk given by John Knox Smith, field engineer of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association who journeyed from Chicago, to address the group.

Another interesting talk was given by Fire Chief John E. Holden, of Newington, N. H. who talked on his pet topic of "The Latest on Tank Trucks" Chief Holden is an enthusiast on these water carrying tanks. In line with the new developments shown in fire science, Willard B. Hall, of Chepachet, R. I. and Chief Eben Briggs, of Duxbury gave talks along the same line.

The all-day program included the showing of important films from the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the United States
Forest Service, and the Aetna Life Insurance Company.

The group was especially interested in the address given by Charles Turner, manager of the Worcester County Soil Conservation, giving practical steps for the building of water holes for the country districts. Chiefs Raymond Robinson, of Hardwick and Theodore Ayers, of Hubbardston, and former selectman of Granville, Nels H. Olsen, in turn related their town's experience with water holes.

"Polio Benefit" Performance Brings Support Of Residents

The "Polio Benefit Performance" which is to be held at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall at 8 p. m. on Wednesday evening January 19th, will not only give those present an occasion for a most enjoyable evening but in addition will provide the financial support so necessary for the research and medical attention required by those who might become victims of the dreaded "Polio" or Infantile Paralysis in the town. The proceeds of this "Polio" Benefit will be donated to the Arlington Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Crosby Parent Teacher Association who are the sponsors are the most fortunate in obtaining the guest stars who are contributing their services to this worthy cause. The announcement carried in this paper last week has brought offers of assistance from all portions of the town and the committee in charge is pleased with the response to their appeal. The groups who are cooperating to make the evening a financial success consist of the churches fraternal groups, veterans organizations, schools, and the many banks and mercantile establishments.

In short this is a fine example of the response of Arlington people to a good cause such as this.

Bill Cunningham and Marjorie Mills, well known radio and newspaper celebrities have many admirers among Arlington residents and all who attend are sure to agree that the sponsors are most fortunate in obtaining these well known individuals to assist them in their great effort.

The program will also include Francis Fabry, violinist and Carol Lee Sandler, Pianist who are residents of Arlington together with others who will be announced later.

Tickets are available now at all Arlington Schools also from the presidents of all local P. T. A. units, all the Arlington banks and at many gift and card shops along Mass. Ave. where posters are displayed. These posters announcing the benefit were distributed by the Boy Scout Council of Arlington thru the cooperation of Henry Keenan.

The cooperation of the banks in the sale of tickets was made thru Walter Chamberlain of the Arlington Cooperative Bank and the cooperation in the schools thru the help of Clifford Hall, Supt. of Arlington Schools.

Wm. J. Sinclair will preside as chairman at the Benefit Performance and will have as his assistants the following, who also may be contacted for the purchase of tickets.

Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Milton Brietscher, Mrs. Fozzi Cahaly, Mrs. Albert Porters, Mrs. Donald Pettie, Mrs. Chester Phetipplace, Mrs. James Maitland, Mrs. Frank McCoy, Mrs. Enrich Schreiter, Mrs. John E. Stafford, Mrs. Howard Whitehouse, Mrs. William Wood, Mr. Copeland MacAllister, Mr. Raymond McKeever, Mrs. Raymond McKeever, General Chair.

Music will be furnished by the Arlington High School Band.

"The Red Shoes" At Majestic Draws Crowds

The lavish Technicolor spectacle "The Red Shoes", now in its 9th week at the Majestic Theatre, where it is showing twice daily including Sunday, all seats reserved has been endorsed by the most critical attendants of the cinema as one of the finest films ever to be shown in the city of Boston, where it is playing to capacity houses.

"The Red Shoes", which was produced by J. Arthur Rank, is based on the famous Hans Christian Andersen story, with fairy tale beauty, music and story, the like of which has never been seen on any screen since the inception of motion pictures.

The cast is headed by Anton Walbrook, Marius Goring, Moira Shearer, Robert Helpman, Leonide Massine and Albert Basserman.

The music was composed by Sir Thomas Beechman, who conducts the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra which is prominently featured in "The Red Shoes."

Chief Bullock Issues "7 Driving Rules"

In anticipation of bad driving weather in January and February Chief Archie F. Bullock, of the Police Department today listed 7 driving rules "to be digested by motorists" to prevent unnecessary accidents.

The rules are:

1. Get the "feel" of the road condition when starting out by trying your brakes gently when no other vehicles are near.
2. Adjust speed of vehicle to weather and road conditions. Be especially careful at school zones, intersections, crossings, curves and bridges.
3. For severe snow and ice conditions, use tire chains—Steel tire chains not only provide "go" traction, but also stopping distances of cars and trucks 40 to 70 per cent on snow and ice.
4. Be sure windshield wipers and defroster are working properly.
5. Have your brakes equalized. Brakes that are not will grab and swerve your car more easily on snow and ice.
6. Be sure your lights are properly aimed. Never drive so fast that you can't stop within the distance you can see.
7. Never stomp on brakes to stop on ice. Stomping brakes causes them to lock, which may throw a car into skid. Remember that good tire treads help on wet or dry pavement, but cannot be relied upon for stopping on packed snow or ice. Nor will "rubber chains" help on ice. Tests have proved rubber chains actually increase braking distance on ice.

Arlington B. C. Nips Revere All-Stars

A well drilled and well coached Arlington B. C. Senior Basketball team edged out a 56-55 win over the previously undefeated Revere, when "Bullet Bob" O'Neil looped one of his hand corner, with only six seconds remaining.

The All-star featuring local college athletes; held a commanding lead at the third quarter mark, but the locals proved their right to being billed as Arlington fought back to tie the score and then go on to win.

Outstanding for the club were: Hanlon and Keohane as individual high scorers and "Big Bill Casey" a bulwark on defense, although he was opposed by "Irv." Heller 250 lb giant of B. U. football fame.

Teachers Pay War Begins On Hill

The opening in the Beacon Hill teachers pay war was fired in Boston last week during a meeting of representatives of Massachusetts men teachers' clubs.

Former Representative David M. Owens, speaking for the Boston High School Masters Association, asserted that the so-called equal pay law can be interpreted, as it now stands, to mean that any Massachusetts school board can legally pay a family allowance to men and women teacher.

Owens explained, however, that to perfect clarity several words that already appear by implication should be inserted in the statute in black and white. He added that a bill to clarify the teachers' salary law has already been introduced in the legislature.

W. Ray Burke, 9 Winthrop Rd., represented the local group at the meeting. Other cities and towns represented included Fall River, Fitchburg, Milton, Gardner, Needham, Medford, Peabody, Dedham, Beverly, Malden, Watertown and Salem.

An executive committee was chosen to work out the details of organization of a state-wide association of schoolmasters to work for the passage of the clarifying legislation. The new association will represent the schoolmasters of Massachusetts on Beacon Hill.

"A Pat On The Back" For Arlingtonians

Looking backward a bit, on entering the New Year, the Town of Arlington may be forgiven for giving itself a "pat on the back," figuratively speaking, when the office of the Town Clerk announced last week that indications point toward the fact that the year 1948 was one of the healthiest one for Arlingtonians, as during that period only 457 deaths were reported as against 503 the previous year.

On the other hand, Cupid was a bit slow in 1948, as a total of 572 couples filed intentions to marry last year as against 608 the previous year. Births surged upward a bit, with 908 recorded in 1948 as compared with 892 for 1947.

Red Cross Offers Nurses' Aid Course

A complete Nurse's Aide training course, which is preparation for any illness or accident that may occur, will be given without charge to any Arlington woman who in turn will plan to spend four hours a week during the next year as a Red Cross hospital volunteer. Miss Dorothy Bartol, chairman of the Nurse's Aide service of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, announced today.

A course for evening aides will start Monday, January 24, and women who can fill important day-time positions may enter classes beginning Monday, February 14, Miss Bartol said.

"The scarcity of trained hospital personnel has made the work of the Red Cross Nurse's Aide doubly essential," Miss Bartol said. Courses, given by Mrs. Louise Lappen, RN, Nurse Director of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, include ward work in a local hospital before graduation exercises.

Registrations are being taken for the two courses at the Red Cross headquarters in Boston at Kenmore 6-6226.

Arlington's Veteran Carriage Builder Reminisces On Birthday

Arlington's veteran carriage builder, Herbert A. Bolser, who recently celebrated his sixty-seventh birthday, made the Columns of the Observant Citizen, in Wednesday's Boston Post in an article which we give below.

The other day I was talking to Herbert Bolser of Arlington, who may be the oldest carriage-builder still playing his trade—though he is only 67 today (and happy birthday Mr. Bolser.) He learned his trade in his native town of Amesbury back in the days when that industrial paradise on the Powow boasted 52 carriage shops. Of course, Mr. Bolser upholders automobiles today, but if you have a carriage he'd probably tackle it with joy. However, it was something else Mr. Bolser had on his mind. He thinks that the old cemetery in Amesbury, where Paul Golgotha was buried in 1654, may be the oldest in these parts. That is the cemetery on Macy st., where early Macys and Collys also rest.

Pupils Like Lunching In Classrooms-No Complaints In 1st Of Single Sessions

Arlington's schools smoothly swung over to the new single session last week, according to school officials and the students at the Arlington schools were considerably pleased and perhaps thrilled at the innovation of lunching at their desks instead of going home at noon.

Superintendent of Schools Clifford R. Hall, stated that no complaints had been received from either parents or teachers about the first major change in the Arlington school system in many years. He praised parents, teachers and pupils for their cooperation in making the first days of the single session a success.

School authorities and health experts will keep a close check on all students, and iron out any minor problems which may arise. Plans are also being made so that nutrition authorities may advise parents in the preparation of balanced lunches for the scholars.

World War One Vets May Renew Insurance

The many recent announcements and explanations relative to the value of National Service Life Insurance of veterans of World War II, has created a definite interest in all forms of Government insurance. The interest displayed in World War II, insurance has projected itself to veterans of World War I. Walter V. Robinson, VA Insurance Officer for the Veterans Administration Boston Regional office, stated today.

According to Robinson, the growing interest on the part of World War I, veterans has necessitated further explanation as to the eligibility of those veterans to purchase war risk insurance. This type of insurance is known as U. S. Government Life Insurance and was first authorized by the War Risk Insurance Act of 1917 and July 2, 1921.

At the time of the original issue of this insurance, those veterans were provided with five year level premium term insurance. The Government has permitted the renewal of this type of insurance five times. Many veterans had carried the insurance for the original five years and then permitted it to lapse not knowing of their right to renew or reinstate.

Today, Robinson said, any of those veterans who can qualify physically may purchase this type of insurance again. They are not limited to the term insurance alone. They may purchase ordinary life insurance twenty-payment life insurance, thirty payment life insurance, twenty year endowment, thirty year endowment, and endowment at age sixty-two. All of these policies provide a clause whereby in the event of total and permanent disability which renders it impossible for the disabled person to follow any substantially gainful occupation, the Government will pay $5.75 per thousand monthly as long as the insured remains disabled. Payment of premiums are waived at the same time. An extra disability provision may also be added for a small additional premium which would provide an additional payment of $5.75 per month per thousand in the event of total disability for a period of four consecutive months.

Veterans Administration is prepared to furnish information individually to these veterans upon inquiry. Your nearest Veterans Administration Office is at 57 Inman Street, Cambridge, Mass.
